Bond Issue Promoted

Prexy Tells Classes Of Student Increase

The present sophomore, junior and senior classes have registered the highest per cent of retention in the history of the University. Pres. Ralph W. McDonald told a convocation of junior and senior students yesterday.

The present senior class holds 62.6 per cent of the number who entered as freshmen in 1952.

The junior class has retained 56 per cent of entering freshmen in 1953.

By action of the Board of Trustees, the University has increased permanent dormitory capacity as follows: the housing capacity for normal occupancy was 625 in 1945. The present housing capacity is 1,763 for normal occupancy, which at present houses 2,600 students. At the completion of Founder's Quadrangle, now under construction, the University will be equipped to house 2,603 at normal capacity.

Pres. McDonald pointed out that the University has fallen far behind in educational buildings since 1945. The highest enrollment prior to 1946 was 1,677, and the present enrollment is 3,910. This is an increase of 2,333 students or an increase in enrollment of 139 per cent.

The educational building space available in 1946 was 343,900 square feet and the present educational building space is 443,380 square feet. This shows an increase of only 99,480 square feet or a 29 per cent increase in educational building space over a period of nine years.

Dr. McDonald explained that passage of the proposed $150 million bond issue would provide state universities, including Bowling Green, with funds to relieve just such situations.

Do-Do Spirit Up In Student Letter

Fellow Students:

We, the Do-Do society, have organized to promote spirit at Bowling Green. We have not organized to compete with SICSIC, but to take over where they leave off. We have realized from the beginning how SICSIC is handicapped by its small number and its secrecy.

So after our first home football game, at which many freshmen had cheered as a group, we decided to organize a society which would keep this group cheering, and keep up school spirit in general by trying to help carry out what SICSIC can only suggest in spirit through posters.

We are sincerely interested and sympathetic to the spirit which SICSIC is trying to instill in the student body and we in no way are attempting to ridicule their efforts. We believe their methods are good and we will help them in any way we can, but spirit is like a disease; it has to be caught from someone who already has it. We of the Do-Do society are trying to act as carriers to spread this desired disease or spirit to the whole student body.

Do-Do

Permits Needed To Donate Blood

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be on the Bowling Green campus Nov. 8. With the aid of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, blood will be donated from 10 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 3 p.m. in the rec hall of the Administration Bldg.

Students under 21 years of age cannot give blood without written consent of parents or guardians. Parental release slips have been distributed to all dorms and houses by APhiO members. Students wishing to give blood are asked to have these forms filled out as soon as possible.

Decoration Trophies At Game; Departments Hold Open Houses

The welcome mat will be spread across the campus tomorrow morning to greet alumni returning for the 33rd annual Homecoming celebration. Highlighting the week end activities will be the Bowling Green-Toledo University football game and the dedication of Alice Prout Hall and Rodgers Quadrangle.

Coach Perry At Rally Tonight

A parade and pep rally will be held at 6:30 p.m. tonight to welcome the alums and back the football team, announced the Spirit Committee.

The parade will begin at Prout Hall, wind around sorority row, past Shatzel, Williams, Kohl, Rodgers Quadrangle, and fraternity row, and it will conclude on the field behind the Fine Arts Bldg, where the Pep rally will be held.

Each sorority, fraternity, and dormitory are urged to be represented in the parade in its own costumes with a theme to welcome the alums or to show that this year they are backing the team.

During the pep rally, cheers and speakers are featured, and the entire team headed by Coach Doyt Perry will be present.

Open Rushing Period

A period of open rushing for upperclass students is now in effect, according to Elaine Karney, president of the Panhellenic Council. The rush period will end Nov. 11.

This period is to be strictly informal, according to Miss Karney and Dean Florence Currier, adviser. Those sororities which have already received their quota, will not be permitted to rush.

Queen To Be Presented

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned during pre-game ceremonies. Approximately one-third of the student body voted for the Homecoming court, which for the first time will remain a secret until the presentation.

Alpha Chi Omega and Omega Phi Alpha, women's service sorority, are sponsoring trophies for the best decorated men's and women's residences. Kay Herge, president of AChIO will make the presentation at the halftime ceremonies.

An alumni luncheon will be held in the Rec Hall at 11:30 a.m. Saturday morning. This year marks the 25th anniversary of the class of 1930 and a meeting of the class will follow the luncheon.

Saturday Night Activities

Saturday night, the Student Senate will present the annual Homecoming dance from 9 to 12 in the Men's Gym. "Welcome to Dreamland" will be the theme of this all-campus event. Bus Widmer and his band will provide the music. The speech department is presenting two plays in the Gate Theatre at 8:15 p.m. and several fraternities and sororities are holding parties and receptions for alumni and guests.

Two Productions, 'Room, Showers,' Start Gate Theatre Series Tonight

Two plays, "The Room Upstairs" and "Scattered Showers," will be presented tonight at 7:30 in the Gate Theatre. These plays are the first in a series of Family Plays, according to Dr. F. Lee Miesle, assistant professor of speech. There will be no admittance fee.

"The Room Upstairs" concerns problems arising between parents and their children. The second play, "Scattered Showers" is about three mothers and how their pre-school youngsters act in a crisis when each child has been reared according to a different method of discipline.

Each play lasts approximately half an hour, and will be followed by a discussion period, which is an essential part of the program. The plays are designed to create interest and to stimulate a desire in the audience to participate in the discussion. They concern problems of everyday life. The audience can analyze another person's family problems, and thereby clarify thoughts and problems of their own.

The cast for tonight's experimental plays include Anne Arrick, Dee Conley, Joe Conley, Gary Davis, George Dunster, Barbara Eyre, Suzanne Moran, Mary Anne Neillands, June Noss, and Polly Zuenbler.

James Shaffer, a graduate student in the speech department, is the director of the Family Play program. Harold B. Obee, director of the Community Drama Service, is the faculty adviser.

No Moseley Termites, Pest Check Continues

Termites in the basement of Moseley Hall have been exterminated by a Toledo fumigating and exterminating firm, Dr. Charles H. Otis, acting chairman of the biology department, said this week.

The exterminating firm keeps a constant check on University buildings for termites and other pests.

Dozen Queen Candidates

Election took place Wednesday, but the identity of the queen and her two attendants will not be disclosed until pre-game ceremonies Saturday.

In Our Opinion

Space For Alums

Campus congestion will be at a maximum for the next three days as alumni, guests, and friends of University students and faculty fill the campus. To these persons, the entire University will offer a planned, varied, and distinctive welcome as the list of activities indicates.

Homecoming is a festivity for which many persons plan and anticipate. And yet, what is presently a student problem may dampen the week end for our alums. It is evident that there is an insufficient number of parking spaces for students and faculty persons to park, so with some 600 to 1,000 alumni coming to the campus, most of them by car, the problem will be even more severe.

To students AND faculty who live off-campus, it is suggested that you not drive to campus on Saturday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. You would be most fortunate in the first place to find a vacant spot. Secondly, your adding to the traffic problem that will undoubtedly exist will sharply raise the safety hazard. Many normal parking places are roped off for athletic events, so the parking spaces will be even fewer than usual.

The area north of the Chem Bldg. has been designated for parking use, and offers space for an additional 125 cars.

All dormitories and residences have received notices about the use of alcohol. Legally, there can be none. Realistically, that which is done must be done in moderation and with no accompanying disorderliness, for a drunk student is no longer a student.

Only through our own efforts can this Homecoming be the event that has been looked forward to for weeks by the students, and for months by the alums.

Off The Record

Campus Harbors Hidden Danger, Omaha Cops Seek 15-Foot Levis

By DICK BUDD

A male student stalked briskly and confidently across the campus without fully realizing the dangerous position in which he was placing himself. Without notice, a brash warning wafted from across the way, "It's 5 p.m., Friday!"

Streaming from every direction came screaming women. The innocent male student whirled, glanced over his shoulder and in a frenzy of terror leaped out of the path of a thundering herd of new sorority pledges.

He pressed himself into a secluded hiding place and waited with eyes bulging in wonderment.

An hour later the chimes majestically rang out the hour. All was a quiet, almost deathly silence. It was unbelievable how quickly the scene changed. Once again it was safe to walk the streets where only one short hour before all had been a screaming bedlam.

These maudlin females are quite proficient at creating most erratic situations. (Translation—tch tch.)

T. Olliver says never hit a man when he's down—he might get up.

Omaha police hope that the man they're looking for doesn't fit what he stole. A South Omaha store owner asked officers to recover a 15-foot pair of levis missing from a Rodeo advertisement in front of his store.

On the opening day of the World Series the president of a north Denver bank won $2.50 in a series pool. While the game was underway, a lone bandit took advantage of the crowd televising the contest in the lobby and got away with $4,435.

A Hollywood wife is defined as a girl who's been married six times and never celebrated an anniversary.

Could it be that college students are becoming more prosperous or just plain lazy. Several colleges from across the country have reported the same major problem, parking facilities.

The University of Minnesota seems to have its particular problem solved. Students must pay fees to park their cars in University parking lots. This makes walking somewhat more attractive to students living within a reasonable distance. They have more hills there than we do.

A small Tennessee town, population 396,000, by the name of Memphis, has city and civic leaders bouncing their heads off brick walls because, "You can't find a place to park downtown." The city's big wheels are in the midst of a two day seminar attempting to solve the problem.

Anyway, parking problems are making one small interest group happy—auto manufacturers.

AWS Board Names Banquet Chairmen

Plans for the Leadership Banquet were discussed by the Legislative Board of the Association of Women Students at its meeting last week. The banquet will be held Oct. 28 in Kohl Hall dining room.

Appointed to committees for the Leadership Banquet were Jean Goldinger, Jeanne Enoch, and Marilyn King, decorations; Nancy Looman, entertainment; Barbara Jane Jamison, flowers; Gloria Atchison, Marlene Bergman, Temple Ann Bowlus, and Sue McNutt, invitations; and Joy Bush, Sharon Camp, and Mona Lokey, place cards. Flowers will be given at the banquet to the head residents of all women's dormitories.

Committee Spots Open On Senate

Student Senate has announced a reorganization of the Elections Committee. The new committee, under the direction of a general chairman and three sub-chairmen, will be composed of one person from each housing unit. The larger dormitories will be permitted one person from each corridor.

Students interested in working on the committee are asked to apply in Ad. 102. Applications will be accepted from Monday through Thursday next week. Students desiring positions as sub-chairmen should state a preference for either publicity, balloting, or arrangements.

Two freshmen will be selected to serve on the Spirit Committee.

History Of Homecoming Varied And Colorful

BY RICHARD DASSEL

Homecoming should be stopped—unless it continues to develop as it has during the past.

All-campus parties, musical comedies, Mardi Gras, and four different dances held simultaneously have all been included in Homecoming celebrations during the last 30 years.

Four live bands, playing to four different dances, all playing at the same time, entertained students during the flapper era. Homecoming was directed by a promotion committee called the Win One Club. Ivan "Doc" Lake, ex-editor of the Sentinel Tribune, headed the group. Floats, donated by the town's business men and decorated by different departments in the University, made up an array which paraded through town. A rally dance on Friday night and a pre-game bonfire and snake dance were the other Homecoming activities during the 20's.

President-Emeritus Frank J. Prout was inaugurated during the Homecoming week end of 1939. The inaugural procession included representatives from 107 colleges.

A Mardi Gras theme was adopted in the early 40's. Bowling Green streets were decorated with orange and brown streamers. All-campus parties in the Nest replaced the all-campus dances.

Rockets Invade BG For Homecoming Contest

By LES WAGNER

A high flying Bowling Green eleven entertains Toledo University tomorrow afternoon in the University stadium. The undefeated Falcons will be unveiled before a capacity Homecoming crowd.

Bowling Green, ranked high among the state teams, has a 6-6 deadlock with Kent State as the lone blemish on its record this season. The Rockets, due to break out in a rash of touchdowns, have received their share of bad breaks this year. The books are thrown out the window, though, when these two opponents face each other.

Perry Respects England

Falcon coach Doyt Perry knows that a "Frosty" England team cannot be underestimated. England had his Rockets on the right track last year and they piled up the victories. In his second season as head mentor at TU things have been rougher. They opened their campaign by tying Eastern Kentucky 6-6. England bluntly stated, "It was hot and we just ran out of gas." Detroit was the initial TU victim, 12-7. Ohio U. and Miami sent the inexperienced Rockets down to humiliating defeats. The spark remained, as proven with last weekend's 6-0 verdict over Western Michigan. For the fans who follow comparative scores, the Falcons romped over Western Michigan 35-0.

Toledo leads in the arch-rivalry, ten games to six for the Falcons.

The Rockets have also capped the last two encounters between the schools.

The main Toledo problem is that it lacks experienced personnel. The main threat is a crop of hard-running backs. Julius "Tarp" Taormina, Dick Basich, Don Wright, and Gene Brown are the men to keep your eye on. Taormina was the Rockets' leading ground gainer in 1953. Wright has eaten up the most yardage this year and garnered 695 yards last year to rank second behind the fabulous Mel Triplett. Basich has tallied two touchdowns to lead their scoring. Jerry Nowack is the signal-caller and the main cog in the Rocket aerial attack, which hasn't been too impressive so far.

BG will counter with its strong array of halfbacks, led by Vic De-Orio, Floyd Lennox and Carlos Jackson. Jim Bryan will in all likelihood handle the main quarterback duties, with Jack Hecker and Tom Kisselle as his targets.

Football Team Has Speedy Halfbacks In Jackson, Kent

Bowling Green inherited two outstanding halfbacks this year in Carlos Jackson and Larry Kent. Carlos played on last year's frosh squad while Larry was a reserve back all last fall.

Plays For Fostoria

Jackson started his football days at Fostoria High. Playing under coach Tom Bender at Fostoria he earned honorable mention on both all-state and all-league squads. Carlos also played three years of basketball and was a dash man on the track team for three years.

After graduating from Fostoria High in 1949 he entered Ohio

JACKSON

KENT

State. Being hampered by injuries he dropped out of college and joined the army. While in service he played for an outstanding Brook Army Medical Center eleven. In 1953 he re-entered college at BG but then remained out of school the second semester. Carlos returned to school last fall and last summer earned his first letter in track. He is married and is majoring in physical education. Jackson is corresponding secretary of Alpha Kappa Omega.

Lone Daytonian

The lone Daytonian on this year's football squad is speedster Larry Kent. During the spring Larry showed he was a very hard tackler. He graduated from Dunbar High in Dayton where he earned three letters in football and was awarded the JCC Award in track. His two main track events are the high and broad jump. Kent is in the College of Liberal Arts and is majoring in English. He wants to be an industrial engineer when he graduates. He is also a member of Alpha Kappa Omega.

Harriers Have Triangular Meet

Coach Dave Matthews takes his Bowling Green cross-country team to Miami Saturday, for a triangular meeting with the Redskins and Western Michigan. The freshmen harriers will also make the trip for a meet with the freshmen of the same schools.

In Miami the Falcons will meet their toughest competition of the year. Last year the George Rider coached team finished third in the National Collegiate meet, behind Oklahoma A and M and Syracuse.

Leading Western Michigan will be junior Bill Pyle, third in the conference last year. Also back from last year's team, which placed second in the MAC last year, are Don Richard, Byron Skinner, and James Arnold.

Miami won the triangular meet last year, with Western Michigan second. However, BG has a good chance to take the Broncos this year, although Miami figures to win easily.

Miami, Xavier Top INS Football Poll

Bowling Green's surging Falcons rank third in this week's INS poll of Ohio's top 10 football college squads. Miami and Xavier, in that order, hold down the top two places.

The undefeated Falcons have skyrocketed up two notches from last week's fifth position in the standings.

Among the state football elevens, BG ranks second in total scoring. The Falcons have tallied 145 points to 157 for a leading Heidelberg squad. The Bowling Green defense tops the state gridders as they have limited their opposition to a meager 20 points.

Honored guests at the third annual Athletic and Physical Education Homecoming breakfast Saturday morning will be members of this 1930 undefeated Bowling Green Football team, which along with the 1928 and 1948 teams were the only undefeated ones in the history of the University. The team was coached by Warren Steller, the first man in the last row. The quarterback was Falcon football mentor, Doyt Perry, pictured in the front row, fourth from the right.

Homecoming Breakfast Will Honor Three Undefeated Football Teams

The third annual Athletic and Physical Education Homecoming Breakfast will be held Saturday morning from 9:30 to 11 in the Williams Hall dining room, honoring the three undefeated football teams in the 37-year football history of the University—1928, 1930, and 1948.

The first year the breakfast was held, Warren Steller, football coach of the 1928, 1930 teams, was honored. Last year the members of the first BG football and basketball teams were recognized.

The 1928 eleven became the first undefeated team in the history of the University as they mowed down five opponents, although they tied two games. They were deadlocked by Defiance College and Kent State University.

BG's First All-Ohio

BG's first All-Ohio football player came from this team in the person of Chet Chapman, who is now living in Alameda Calif., where he is athletic director of Alameda High School.

The 1930 team was the second undefeated eleven that tied two games. While winning six games, they were held to ties by Findlay College and Toledo University.

One of the outstanding members of this team to be honored at the breakfast Saturday will be Doyt Perry, coach of the Falcons, who quarterbacked the 1930 team to an undefeated season.

The largest turnout for the breakfast should come from the 1948 team, since it has not been too long since the members of that team graduated.

Schnelker Is Outstanding

This team had many outstanding players, headed by Bob Schnelker, present end for the New York Giants, Vern Dunham, former coach here and now coach at Hillsdale High School in Michigan.

Ohio Wesleyan Snaps Hockey Win Streak

For the first time in four years, the University women's hockey team lost a game. Even though all 21 players were used last Saturday, Bowling Green lost to Ohio Wesleyan 6-0.

Three games remain for BG, but no dates or opponents have been chosen.

The old Falcon's Nest, once the social center of the University, is now without windows, doors, or a floor. The Nest was sold to the Portage American Legion to make room for the new student union and was moved to Portage last spring.

Old Nest Atmosphere To Be Given New Life

BY ROBERT LAUER

I went to see the old Nest a few days ago, but wasn't prepared for what I saw. Let's just say that the "old, gay Nest ain't what she used to be."

While driving to Portage, I tried to remember how the Nest had been. Like most upper-classmen, what I remember most is the rustic appearance of the old building. It was the type you'd expect to see in the center of any college campus.

The old place was always crowded with students dropping in for coffee after, between, and even during classes. It was a perfect place to take a date after studying at the library, and was always a good place to meet a prospective date.

Campus elections were held there, and the walls were always plastered with posters or banners. The faculty members had their own private room and were concerned because the students kept taking their chairs away. The TV room was a popular place, especially Thursday night when Drag-net came on. Often in the winter a fire would be built in the big fireplace in the main room. Alpha Phi Omega had its office and meeting room upstairs.

By the time I reached Portage, I had developed a real interest in seeing the Nest again. I parked in front of the building and walked through the weeds toward the front door, although none of the doors were in. The front porch was gone, and many of the windows were broken. I walked around to one side and entered the building through a huge hole that used to be the fireplace in the main room. All the rooms were completely bare except for two feet of sand on the floor. The fireplaces in both the faculty room and the TV room were gone, as were the stairs to the upper floor. The only things left of the old Nest were the wagon-wheel chandeliers and a sign in a corner—Alpha Phi Omega.

Disappointed by the whole thing, I went to see Junior Davis, the commander of the Portage American Legion Post. He said the Legion hoped to move into the building by Christmas, and planned to repair the windows, replace the doors and the big fireplace, and pour a concrete floor in the building. He added that the front porch would be replaced, but the fireplaces in the faculty and TV rooms would be abandoned because of lack of funds.

Satisfied that the old Nest wasn't dead for good, I returned to Bowling Green. Back on campus, I asked a freshman student if he had ever heard of the old Falcon's Nest. He had no idea what it was. I asked a few sophomores, and the answer was, "Sure, that's the old shack that sat where the new Union is to be." This was almost an insult. Finally, I asked several juniors and seniors, and their replies were exactly what I expected: "The old Nest—a place with real warmth and atmosphere." When it went, a great deal of BG tradition went with it.

Dean Named Prexy Of Freshman Club

Nearly 300 freshmen attended the first two meetings of the Frosh Club, according to Jack Howard, past president of the club.

During last week's meeting, the following officers were elected: Arch Dean, president; Philip Skapuro, vice-president; Sue Lingenfelder, activity chairman; and Roger Williamson, publicity chairman. Plans for the Frosh Camp to be held Oct. 29 were also discussed.

Following the meeting, entertainment was provided by the Theta Chi Quartet and a trio from Shatzel Hall.

HURRAY FOR THE RED, WHITE AND GOLD!

There's a new package on Philip Morris Cigarettes. It's red and white and gold and pretty as a picture. You'd never guess that behind anything so bright and cheerful is a saga packed with action and passion, with love and romance and not a few tears.

It started quietly enough. The makers of gentle Philip Morris, as hale a bunch of fellows as you ever clapped your eyes upon, got to talking last summer during their annual outing on Attu, a secluded and unspoiled island, often called "The Capri of Alaska." Capri, on the other hand, is often called "The Attu of Italy."

But I digress. I was saying that the makers of Philip Morris, jim-dandy fellows every man-jack of them, got to talking on their last outing. "Don't you think," said one maker to the other makers, "that our brown Philip Morris package, though in many ways terribly fetching, doesn't quite reflect the basic quality of today's Philip Morris—its happy gentleness, its jolly lightness?"

"Why, yes," replied the other makers to the first maker, "we do think that our brown Philip Morris package, though in many ways terribly fetching, doesn't quite reflect the basic quality of today's Philip Morris—its happy gentleness, its jolly lightness."

"Let us have the pack re-designed!" suggested the first maker, whose name is Laughing Ned.

"Yes, let us!" cried the other makers, whose name is Fun-Loving Tom. "Let us! Let us! Let us!"

The makers forthwith engaged the prominent firm of package re-designers, Sigafoos and Associates. It was with full confidence that the makers entrusted the task to Sigafoos and Associates, for Sterling Sigafoos, the senior member, is known the length and breadth of the world as "The Grand Old Man of Package Re-designing," and his partner, Fred Associates, though a younger man, is everywhere regarded as a comer.

Sigafoos and Associates began their job by conducting interviews from coast to coast to determine what kind of pack people wanted for Philip Morris. The partners could not do the interviewing themselves—Sigafoos because of his advanced years; Associates because he is subject to motion sickness—so they sent our two trusted employees: Mr. Walker Nylet (Yale '51) and Miss Felicia Sigafoos (Radcliffe '52), daughter of the senior partner. After canvassing the entire nation and tabulating more than 90 million interviews, Mr. Nylet sent the following communique to the home office:

"Dear Dad and Associates,

I call you Dad because Miss Sigafoos and I discovered during our long and exhaustive survey that never were two people so admirably suited. We have accordingly been married and have accepted a position with the United States Government keeping the lighthouse off Gay Head, Martha's Vineyard.

I hope you are not too upset by this news. May I suggest you look at it this way: you haven't lost a daughter; you've gained a beacon.

Sincerely,

Walker Nylet"

Well sir, old Sigafoos fumed for a while, but at last he calmed down and went to visit the newlyweds in their lighthouse, bringing them a suitcase full of twenties as a wedding gift. It was there he learned that people want Philip Morris in the red, white, and gold package which you are now, I trust, holding in your very own hand.

The makers of PHILIP MORRIS who bring you this column beg to remind you that for a while you'll still be seeing Philip Morris both ways—in the bright new red, white and gold package, and in the friendly familiar brown.
